Carbon's new ultra modern hotel opened its doors Tuesday Sept. 6th by Sam Garrett. The new hotel has ten rooms, two beverage rooms, most up to date coffee shop with home cooked meals and pleasant surroundings. This building is L shape with sidewalks all around, with latest lighting system and natural gas heating. Rooms are all air conditioned with wall to wall carpet, bathroom and halls, complete in each one—three with baths and seven with showers. Kitchen has all up to date appliances. Six people will be employed under the management of Cecil Paget. Architect was John Dragon and contractors were Pat and Jack Construction. Carbon; Plumbing, B. Stubbert of Carbon; Electrician, T. Manning, Drumheller. This building replaces the Carbon Hotel that burnt July 6th, 1959. Come and visit this new hotel—the only one of its kind in Alberta. Flowers for the opening were supplied by Garrett Motors and corsages for the ladies of the staff courtesy of Fred's Barber Shop.

At last they have started to demolish the old hall and it will shortly be replaced by the new one. Now our little old town is getting back on its feet. Come on—let's all get behind the wheel and keep it moving.

We are pleased to note that Frances Kaughman brought further swimming honors to Carbon at the Swim Meet held on Labor Day Sept. 5th at Three Hills. This annual event had a very large entry this year, there being 44 entries from Hanna, 26 from Innisfail, 20 from Drumheller, about 25 from Three Hills and two from Carbon. Frances Kaughman of Carbon won the 75 yards Senior Ladies Freestyle, the 50 yards Senior Ladies Backstroke and the 50 yards Senior Ladies Breaststroke. She also won the Grand Aggregate for Ladies, having scored the largest number of points for swimming. She also swam for the Three Hills Ladies team (four to a team) in the Ladies Relay Race and helped Three Hills Ladies to win. So altogether she had a very busy and successful afternoon. Her many friends think that she would win the Ladies' Swimming Championship of Alberta if it could be arranged for her to take part in this championship next year and it is hoped that some of the Carbon people will be sufficiently interested in sport to provide transportation for her to attend the Alberta Swimming Championships next year

Three birthday cakes were cut and enjoyed by all, one for Mr. White, one for Marie and one for them both. A lovely bouquet of mixed flowers decorated the birthday table and many nice gifts were opened by both Mr. White and his granddaughter.

Open House will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Buyer, the occasion being their thirtieth wedding anniversary Sept. 25th from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. everyone welcome.

With all the dignity of an Indian chief, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker gets ^{TNS} a headdress placed on him as he is inducted into the Blood Indian tribe at Waterton Park, Alta. To the beating of drums and chanting, tribal paint was applied to the PM's face and chest and he became Chief Many Spotted Horses.

A really big boy, weighing 17 pounds two ounces at birth and measuring 24 inches in length. This baby boy was born to Mrs. Benoit Beauchemin of Beloeil, Quebec. Only one baby on record, born in 1879, exceeds the newcomer in weight.

David Walker, federal minister of public works, is the only cabinet minister in Ottawa—and probably the world—who goes to work by canoe. And he paddles it himself—from his home on the Rideau River downstream to the Tupper Building, new headquarters of the department. Trip takes 16-minutes—and no parking problem.

There'll be another Flynn in the movies. Sean Errol Flynn, son of the late Errol Flynn, is making his debut in a picture being filmed in Florida. Flynn, 19, is a university student and lives in Florida with his mother, Lilla Damita. He says his father encouraged him to try a movie career.

MARKING ITS 50th ANNIVERSARY this year, the Royal Canadian Navy looks back to another anniversary 20 years ago, when in desperate need of ships she took over six over-age American destroyers. The three ships above, St. Clair, Niagira and Annapolis, along with St. Croix, St. Francis and Columbia, were taken over in September, 1940, and for the next few years they faced the heavy demands of convoy and escort work on the North Atlantic. Most had gone to a training role by 1944, and one, HMCS St. Croix, was the first victim of an acoustic torpedo.

HOLLYWOOD. — This city of glamour and fabulous wealth is forever making or breaking careers and fortunes. It is true however that few manage to keep their fame as well as their financial holdings, but this is done only through shrewd planning and investing.

For instance, Jack Benny has a revenue coming from his bowling alley and real estate. Tony Curtis owns a string of service stations. Debbie Reynolds has a fashion line of clothing for women and teen-agers. Charlton Heston owns a lumber mill. Loretta Young conducts a charm school. Former Canadian, Art Linkletter has a cattle ranch and a rice growing acreage. Frank Sinatra owns part of a chain of restaurants as well as a percentage of a lavish hotel in Las Vegas.

Some of the wealthiest of Hollywood personalities have investments in oil leases, and these include Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Fred MacMurray, Mary Pickford and Stewart Granger.

One time movie darling—Marion Davies owns several skyscrapers in the best districts of New York. Jack Haley, former musical comedy star, made a fortune in Hollywood real estate.

Elvis Presley, America's current heart throb, is amassing a fortune with his movie career, recordings, and personal appearances, and he is wisely investing some of his wealth in real estate. There are at least 75 Elvis Presley products on the market today, and the sales of these constantly pay him royalties.

Alan Ladd owns a hardware store in Palm Springs, also a chicken farm, while Gary Grant has 1,200 acres of Brazilian jungle land.

John Wayne invested several millions of dollars in his picture, "The Alamo". The song "I Must Go Back to the Alamo", will certainly help to acquaint the peoples of the world with this spectacular production of early American history.

New skills for old

(The News, Tillsonburg, Ont.)

There are several reasons why unemployment remains stubbornly and uncomfortably high. But, without a doubt, a high proportion of those out of a job for any length of time stay jobless either because they are unskilled or because demand for their particular skill is not what it was.

At the same time, employers, newspaper advertisements and National Employment Service bulletins daily emphasize the fact that there are other skills which are—and have been for some considerable time—very much in demand. Clearly, what is needed is a much more ambitious, energetic and nation-wide program of job training and re-training than anything we have yet attempted in Canada.

Little Belgium, as the Labour Gazette recently pointed out, is one country which has shown what can be done. She has re-trained more than 25,000 unemployed persons over the past 15 years and over the same period has developed her retraining program to the point where it is today one of the most advanced in the free world.

Training centres are located in various parts of the country. These operate within the framework of a highly flexible training system that adapts the kinds of trades taught to the nation's economic needs as forecast by a manpower studies unit. Length of an average course is five to eight months, but this is shortened where possible.

A Belgian who successfully completes his course is considered to be semi-qualified; a few more months of practical experience usually is enough to make him fully skilled. Although most trainees are in their 20's and 30's, some are older, the retraining program being quite separate from the regular vocational training program for school leavers.

There would seem to be no reason why Canada could not profit from Belgian experience (and, indeed, from that of other industrial countries which have gone further along these lines than we have). We are certainly in a position to know which industrial and commercial skills are going to be needed most in the years immediately ahead.

This being so, the Senate Committee on Manpower and Employment could do worse than carefully consider the possibilities of instituting some such system in Canada. The alternative would seem to be prolonged idleness—and maintenance out of unemployment insurance and public funds—of many thousands who might otherwise be placed in productive work.

Apart altogether from current conditions, the skills of a growing number of Canadians now employed are going to become redundant over the next few years. Are those who will be affected going to be able to find alternative employment? The answer to this question is likely to depend more than anything else on what steps they take in the interim to develop an alternative skill.

A scene of beauty

(The Mercury, Estevan, Sask.)

The Souris River Valley from Estevan downstream, because it is here where Long Creek joins the river to begin the presence of trees and shrubs along its course, is at all times a beautiful sight in summer, but this year it excels many of the past seasons with all its magnificent prospect.

The weather has been such to encourage summer growth to an unusual extent. Rains have been sufficient and timely to bring out more foliage on elm, maple and ash trees and saskatoon, choke cherry and other bushes to keep them brilliantly green.

The grass on the sloping banks has responded in the same lush manner to form an undulating carpet of vivid green contrasting with the red soil of bare-sided mesas, while upthrust banks create a contrast of lines with those of ravines whose less precipitous sides cut and rounded from the prairie level slowly drop and blend with the valley bottom.

It is unfortunate that there is not a "river" road that would make the miles of scenic beauty more readily contacted. It is doubtful if there is any other valley in the west more beautiful during the summer season.

Some of the most beautiful spots are practically inaccessible except for those who are willing to hike. Yet much pleasure can result from a drive over the roads which wind through the valley in the immediate vicinity of this city.

A new scene has been added to the old picture with the formation of Boundary Dam Lake, which as it twists back and forth in its elongated shape can be seen at its best from Highway 47 running south to the international boundary line as well as the municipal road into the Wood End district.

Other places may boast of their summer beauty and possibly with justification. Estevan's Souris River Valley will challenge them all.

These four promising young Alberta students are among the 50 from all parts of Canada who will shortly begin their college careers in the Arts or Sciences at the Universities of their choice under the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Scholarship Plan. Each of these students will receive a scholarship of $750, in this, the first year of the Bank's seven-year Plan.

We, at the Bank of Montreal, congratulate these exceptional young people. We are happy to assist them in their pursuit of a higher education in fields where they will have the opportunity — through scientific research and pursuits in the public service — to contribute in some notable way to the common good of the nation in the years ahead.

To all of these students we extend warmest wishes in their endeavours to qualify for the additional valuable scholarships to be awarded each year until 1967, when the Plan culminates in Canada's Centennial Year.

HERE ARE THE ADDITIONAL AWARDS FOR WHICH THESE STUDENTS MAY QUALIFY:

48 SCHOLARSHIPS OF $1,500...

In the Spring of 1961, the top 16 of these 50 students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $1,500 for second-year university training.

In 1962 and 1963, provided at least good second-class grades have been maintained, these same students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $1,500 per annum... leading to graduation in 1964.

24 FELLOWSHIPS OF $3,000...

In the Spring of 1964, the top 8 of these 16 students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $3,000 for one year's study anywhere in Canada or abroad.

In 1965 and 1966, provided a satisfactory standard of work has been maintained, these same students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $3,000 per annum for further study leading to their Doctorate.

2 BANK OF MONTREAL CANADA CENTENNIAL AWARDS OF $5,000

In 1967, to culminate this seven-year plan, the two top students—one in Arts and one in Science—will be chosen, from all 50 original participants in the plan, to receive the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Awards of $5,000 each for a further year of study anywhere in Canada or abroad.

Thus, to each of these two winners—if they have been participants throughout the plan—the Bank will have provided financial assistance amounting to $19,250.

Scholarship Students are chosen on merit alone — academic standing and character — by independent selection committees of faculty members of Canadian Universities. THE B of M HAS NO PART WHATEVER IN THE DECISIONS OF THE COMMITTEES.
